How Can I Donate My Clothes?

Students can drop off gently used items—including shirts, sweaters, pants, shorts, accessories, books, and small knick-knacks—at The Cellar on Thursday, October 9 at 4 pm. Please note that all clothing donations must be in clean, wearable condition to be accepted.

Please Do Not Donate:

- Bedding
- Furniture
- Intimate garments (i.e. underwear, bathing suits)
- Clothes that are stained or ripped (unless it's part of the style)

Why Swap When I Can Throw Away and Buy New?

According to a 2023 study by the University of Waterloo, the average Canadian throws away 37 kilograms of textiles, including clothing, household linens, and other fabric-based products, every year. Although the cost of clothing can vary from brand to brand, the average consumer can spend anywhere from $60 to $200 on a new outfit. Joining The Clothing Swap in The Cellar is good for both the environment and your wallet.

Something to Note:

- Upon clothing drop off, students will receive a token. One token = 1 item of clothing to take home. Shopping for these students will begin at 5 pm
- Students who don't have a token (who haven't dropped any items off) can start browsing at 6 pm
- You don't need to donate to take part in the clothing swap—but students who haven't donated will be limited to a smaller number of items and browsing time
- Clothing and other items will be available for free on a first come, first served basis—come early for the best selection

We can't wait to see what you donate, and we hope you find a special piece to take home with you by the end of the swap.
